

SIRIUS CANINE FERTILITY

Transportation Release of Liability

Sirius Canine Fertility agrees to attempt to notify owner if dog(s) should become ill. All dog(s) left in the care of Sirius Canine Fertility, personnel or agents are left without liability on the part of Sirius Canine Fertility for loss, damage from disease, death, running away, theft, fire or injury to themselves or to other persons or property, or unavoidable causes of other natures.

Sirius Canine Fertility will take precautions to prevent dog(s) from running away from their vehicles or property, but dogs' behavior is unpredictable. Owner of said dog(s) will not hold Sirius Canine Fertility responsible if my dog finds a way to escape their premises during care or vehicle during transportation.

Owner of said dog(s) agree and understand the risks associated with travel to and from The Kennels, including transportation provided by Sirius Canine Fertility employee's private motor vehicles; the possibility of pet injury incurred while getting in or out of vehicles of transportation.

Sirius Canine Fertility may, at any time, refuse a dog for transportation if the dog exhibits behavior that could be harmful to said dog(s), other dogs, or staff, such as:

- Aggression
- High Anxiety
- Fear
- Condition/Behavior

Sirius Canine Fertility employee will determine if transportation is not in the dog(s) best interest.

Owner of said dog(s) agrees that at any time if a Sirius Canine Fertility staff member deems fit for the dog(s) to be groomed due to lack of crate training, house training, or stress induced GI tract issues, said owner will cover any cost incurred. ($50 max)

Owner of said dog(s) authorize Sirius Canine Fertility to consult any veterinarian available, if the dog(s) should require medical attention. Any services rendered by the veterinarian shall be at the owner's expense.

Owner acknowledges that should the dog(s) bite a Sirius Canine Fertility staff member; Sirius Canine Fertility is required by law to report the bite and the dog(s) must be quarantined at a veterinarian or Nevada County Animal Control. All charges accrued at Sirius Canine Fertility, as well as the quarantine board will be the owner's responsibility.

I, _____, hold harmless Sirius Canine Fertility, its Owners and all staff members from any liability resulting from my requested transportation of my dog (s).
